Weak and Lower Figures at the Opening on New York 'Change Saturday.

General Electric and Chicago Gas Made to Suffer-At Indianapolis Wheat Has Dropped from 57c to 53c Since Monday.

THE BOND MARKET.

Railway Issues Were Active and Heavy, Half Day Sales Being $508,000. At New York, Saturday, money on call was nominally 4 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 8@12 per cent. Sterling exchange was irregular, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.80 @4.81 for sixty days, and $4.82%@4.83 for demand. Silver certificates were neglected and closed at 704sc. London bar silver was 8212d. At the opening of business at the New York Stock Exchange, Saturday, the market was weak and lower. General Electric and Chicago Gas were the special features. The former opened at 30, a decline of 51/2 per cent., as compared with Friday's closing figures. The break was due to forced sales and at the decline there was some good buying and the stock railed quickly to 39, receded to 3612 and closed at 88. Chicago Gas was hammered down seven points, to 40, recovered to 43%, receded to 41% and closed at 42%. There was some dispute about the opening price, the stock having sold simultaneously at 44 and 41. Rumors of a bond issue to pay for construction and that the company would pass its dividend accounts for the break. Officials here denied the truth of the reports. The general market displayed weakness, the bears having made the most of the fact that savings banks would take advantage of the time clause. The conservative element of the street on the other band commended the action of the presidents. The decline outside of Chicago Gas and General Electric ranged from 1 to

44 per cent. The greatest losses were in Delaware & Hudson, Lackawanna, the Western Union, Lake Shore and Louisville & Nashville, The low prices attracted purchasers, and a recovery of to 1 per cent. followed. The trading in odd lots was again on a heavy soale, and was quite a feature of the market. The bank statement proved unfavorable, as expected, and the market eased again. Among the specialties Pullman broke 10, to 140, and rallied to

The Trade of the Week Was Disappointing, Prices Being Unsettled.

On South Meridan street trade was slow all the week, even the grocers reporting trade light. The bank failures, doubtless, more or less, affected business. A number of articles in the list that come into daily consumption are lower than a week ago. Poultry, cabbages, onions, apples, eggs, tomatoes and melons all range lower. Ar ples, peaches and tomatoes are all rotting badly, which makes a large per cent, of the arrivals unsatable. Dry goods, boot and shoe and hardware merchants all report trace quiet and prices ruling easier. The local grain market is fairly active, wheat still dropping in price. Corn, several grades, advanced yesterday 'c, wheat dropping to 53c, against 57c on Monday last. Oats are steady, receipts of the new crop still light. Track bids yesterday ruled as follows:

BEHEADING IN SIAM,

Fancy Ceremonies at the Execution of a Young Wife-Murderer.

Philadelphia Telegraph. A Siamese named Ai Yone, who murdered his wife because she had forsaken him for a lover, was executed in Bangkok one day recently by decapitation, the method bearing a close resemblance to the Chinese, and the spectators showing the same eager and unsympathetic interest in the proceedings. and the same haste in quitting the scene of blood the moment the victim's head was Ai Yone was a young Siamese who lived near Phrapatoom with his wife. About four months ago she suddenly decamped with a handsomer man. The husband tracked the pair like a bloodhound, never leaving their trail till he ran them down in a house where they were hiding. The lover escaped, but the woman was overhauled as she was flying, and was horribly slashed with a sharp knife, no less than eighteen wounds being made by the maddened husband. He was caught red-handed and convicted. He never showed any fear when sentenced, but he refused to see his mother, because he said the sight of her grief would unnerve him.

The execution was set for 9 in the morning. As early as 5 o'clock the prisoner was led out, heavily manacled. He formed the central figure in an imposing procession of officials of all the state departments. dressed in their richest robes. The whole party took boats, and went up the river to the execution grounds. The condemned man was among the coolest in the crowd, chewing betel, and apparently enjoying the early morning boat ride.

On the grounds a temporary altar had been erected, and before this the seven superbly built executioners, with drawn swords, made offerings of a boar's head, fowls, rice, etc., and lighted large tapers. Then the swords were anointed. The condemned mean while remained on the funeral barge, where Buddhist priests gave him the last rites. He smoked and chatted after the ceremony, and never showed any sign of weakness.

At last he was broughtout in front of the altar and placed on freshly-cut plantain leaves. The executioners asked his pardon for killing him, after they had wound red sashes about their bodies and placed red handkerchiefs about their heads. A snowwhite cloth was wound around the condemned man's loins, his ears were stopped with clay so that he should not hear the headsman's footsteps as he came behind him. His neck chain and handouffs were removed and his elbows were secured to a hamboo post, while he was forced to a sitting position. Then a white line was marked on his neck as a guide to the swordsmap.

The executioneer, a lusty young Samson, now approached from behind, advancing with many fancy steps, and moving his sword like the baton of a bandmaster. His six associates formed an attentive group. and watched every movement. For a moment the large sword gleamed in the air. Then it descended exactly upon the white line. The body fell slightly to one side, the head dropped, but hung by a bit of skin, and the man's life blood leaped forth upon the sand. One of the attendant executioners severed the head completely, and another neatly placed it upon a pole and exposed it to the crowd of Stamese and Chinese that filled the inclosure. Then the body was hurried to the unmarked grave near at hand, and before five minutes all the inrue crowd had vanished, and only the grizzly head and the blood-stained sand remained to mark the tragedy.

A RACE TO CALCUTTA. Three Big Ships Engage in a Long-Distance

Trial of Speed. Philadelphia Record.

At sunrise this morning the big British ship Wanderer will start on a race of his teen thousand miles, her competitors being the ships Osborne and Glencaird, all of them bound from Philadelphia to Calentta with cargoes of refined petroleum. The race is for a bag of five hundred gold dollars, contributed by the captains of the three vessels, and it will be won by the vessel first taking a pilot off the coast of irritish India, each to be timed from the moment she leaves the Delaware capes. The race is particularly novel because of the long distance to be covered and the great size of the vessels. They are not only the largest ships that have ever entered this port, but are among the largest in the world's merchant marine service. The Wanderer, Captain I randes, 18 of 2,801 tons burden; the Clencaird, Captain English, of 2.418 tons, and the Osborne, Captain Scott, of 2.986 tone. The Glencaird is several days out, the Wanderer starts this morning and the Osborne will be ready to sail in a few hours. All loaded at Point Breeze. The Wanderer is loaded with 118,260 cases of refined oil. She is a four-masted steel vessel and carries an enormous spread of canvas, and Captain Brandes says he will win the race or carry away her masts in the effort. He has a crew of thirty-six men. Captain Scott declares that when the Osborne is clear of the coast and in good working order she will have no trouble in overhanling and passing the Wanderer, even should be be several days behind her. The Giencaird is also noted as a fast sailer, and Captain English was confident of winning when he cleared for his long journey. So far as size and draft are concerned the vessels are about on equal terms, while their commanders stand equally well as trained mariners. The Osborne and Wanderer are sister ships, having been built aide by side at Liverpool, and are owned by the same firm. The Glencaird is a Clyde-built ship. After unloading at Calcutta the three ships will take on cargoes of jute for San Francisco, at which port, they will load grain on European account, so that when their charters have been complied with each will have completed a voyage around the world.

Paresis Symptoms.

One of the first symptoms of paresis, says a prominent physician, is a tendency to exaggerate one's own importance. The frequent use of the personal pronoun "l" is regarded as almost a sure forerupner of paresis by the medical fraternity. This is startling, and, if correct, about one out of every ten men and women met with must be in the last stages of semi-paresis. Egotism is the most common thing in the world.

TRADING AT CHICAGO.

Corn Firmer Than Wheat, with Nothing

New in Provisions. CHICAGO, July 29.-The liquidation of wheat, which has been so much of a feature during the last few days, was continued this morning. Prices to-day again beat all records for cheapness, September selling off at one time 23c from the close last night, and December went 25c lower. Every body seemed to have wheat for sale. As the decline went on, margins became exhausted, and many trades were closed on that account. Cash sold as low as 564c. September 604c, and December 67%c. Near the close, however, shorts began to cover freely and large export purchases were reported which caused a rally of 14c from the low point. All the conditions outside of monetary matters were favorable, with big exports for the week-1,365,000 bushels

-the big export purchases here and at New York. Some of the trust securities on the New York Stock Exchange started panicky, and that gave the wheat market its direction at the opening. The start in the pit was wild, a few purchasing orders were filled at the start at 63'se for September in one part of the pit, while in another group of traders it was being wildly offered down 4c at a time, from 63c to 61% c, before buying be-came at all general. The price dropped 1% c in a few seconds, with little fuss or exdoiders had evidently made up their minds to get out of their long lines of wheat, and were consequently prepared for the inevithe first decline, which caused a reaction 62 sc. but fresh selling orders caught at such a chance, and price again went down before every tresh offer to sell. Not until the price was groveling around 6042c and even 60 4c for a fraction of a second, was any permanent recovery possible. September reacted and closed at 61 2c; December started at 70 2c; dropped to 67 sc, and closed firm at 69c. At the bottom of the day's range there was no trading in July. but it was nominally 4c discount at 56%c. It closed at 57 so. The buoyancy lowards the end was due to an active export demand both here and at New York. At the latter city forty-eight boatloads were worked and here 265,000 bushels of No. 2 spring was engaged for direct shipment to Liverpool. The high price of New York Exchange prevented further engagements here. Of the local receipts of 146 cars, eighty-seven were new wheat. Export clearances from both coasts for the week were 4,363,000 bushels, compared with 5,077,-000 bushels the week before. Minneapolis and Duluth receipts were 171 cars, compared with 225 on the corresponding week last year. The corn market was remarkably firm considering the weakness in wheat. At the close to-day there is to decline. Business was moderately active and there was good inquiry for export both here and at New York. Local receipts were 417 cars. September started at 38%, dropped to 37%c, and reacted to 38%c, at which it

Trading in oats was light and scattered. The market fell off slightly in sympathy with wheat and corn, and the rather heavy receipts also gave the market some weakness. It firmed up again toward the close and ended at the top price of the day. Shorts were buying rather freely early. September opened 23%c, sold down to 23%c and up again to 23%c. May opened at 284c, sold up to 283so and down to 28c, closing at 25 &c. Local receipts, 205 cars. The provision market repeated yesterday's performance. The clique held September lard at 9.70c and packers sold some ribs. Ribs were weak and closed .050 lower. Hog receipts were light, numbering 8,000, but the market was quoted easy.

Estimated receipts for Monday are: Wheat, 165 cars; corn, 510 cars; oats, 205 cars; hogs, 20,000. A moderate demand for freights prevailed, with a fair supply of boats on the market. Rates were reported steady on the basis of 1@14c for corn and 14 @14c for wheat to Buffalo. Outside fig-

Man's Woes.

Detroit Free Press. There are a good many annoying things in the world. It is unpleasant to have your relatives descend upon you, just as you are preparing to leave town. It is far from soothing to your senses to walk the floor with your promising offspring on a summer night. It does not improve your temper to have some one walk off with your Sunday morning paper before you are up. These and other causes occasion many anxious thoughts, but probably at no time do you feel the same supreme uneasiness that you do when the barber is shaving around the "Adam's apple" and the irresistible desire seizes you to swallow.

She Thought It Was to Est.

It was down in a Chautauqua village that a gay young soldier had his sweetheart. Such a beauty she was, too. It happened, once, that he sent her down from Buffalo a pot of cold cream to keep her cheeks as fresh as the budding rose. When he came down to visit her again he asked her how she liked her little gift. "The taste was very nice," she said, with rather a sickly smile, "but I think I like

DAILY.

SUNDAY

AND

The Journal's price for daily is only 15 cents a week, and it has a very wide circulation, reaching a large number of people hitherto unable to afford the luxury of a first class daily paper. Reports from agents and subscribers indicate a continued increase, and that what used to be regarded as a luxury has become a necessity. The new readers not only remain, but they are constantly increasing.

It is the purpose of the Journal to make itself even more indispensable to its patrons, new and old, and to still further widen its field. To this end it will not only endeavor to maintain the its reputation as by far the best newspaper in Indiana, but will add such new features and improvements from time to time as are in accord with journalistic progress and that may tend to the advantage of its readers. It will, for example, give increased attention to State and local interests. What Indianians want is a paper in which Indiana affairs are given especial prominence and importance. This want the Journal has always supplied as no other paper published outside or inside the State is able to do; but the rapidly developing industries and business and social enterprises of the community call for additional consideration and space, With this in view its corps of correspondents has been increased until it has a representative in nearly every town in the State. Special traveling correspondents will visit the news centers of the State at frequent intervals, thus insuring the "write up" of every important event or matter of general interest.

Being published in the geographical center of Indiana the Journal is afforded unusual facilities for securing news promptly, and, what is of greater consequence, is able to reach its subscribers without delay. The running of morning trains from Indianapolis is very favorable to the early distribution of papers sent by mail or express, and in most towns within a radius of a hundred miles Journals are delivered as early as in the city where they are printed. In the more remote counties there is but little loss of time in transportation.

The Journal is the paper for Indianians and particularly for Indiana Republicans. The change of administration involves the settlement of political problems likely to be of the most direct personal concern to every farmer and business man in the State. All such matters will be set forth in detail, the Journal's Washington correspondent being instructed to give especial attention to everything having a possible bearing on Indiana interests.

But though the Journal is Republican in politics it is non-partisan in the publication of news. Its constantendeavor is to secure facts unbiased by prejudice and to make its columns trustworthy records of each day's happenings. A large editorial force supplements the work of the press associations and the correspondents, and Jurnishes careful supervision for each department.

The Sunday Journal has a well-established literary character, superior to that of any Western paper. It is not defaced by "plate matter" nor filled with a heterogeneous mass of syndicate literature, but its contributions and miscellany are chosen with a view to their special fitness and adaptability to the tastes of the readers. The reading matter in any given number of the Sunday Journal is equal in quantity and is not inferior in quality to that found in the leading magazines. As an educational adjunct and a source of entertainment the Sunday Journal is indispensable in every well-regulated family.

The Weekly Journal, at $1 per year, contains more reading matter than can be obtained for the money in any other shape. It is carefully edited and offers the news of the week in condensed shape and a variety of miscellany. agricultural and household literature that render it one of the best investments that any family can make. Try it and see. It has a large circulation in this and other States and agents find it an easy matter to secure large lists of subscribers. Special inducements offered to agents.
